

A STUDY IN SELFISHNESS PRESENTED BY LAWYER PATRICK'S HEAD

INTERIOR OF PATRICK'S HEAD PHRENOLOGICALLY VIEWED.

Mrs. HARRIET HUBBARD AYER
VIEWS IT FROM PHRENO-LOGIST'S STANDPOINT.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Had I been Albert Patrick's attorney I should have insisted upon my client's procuring a wig made so that it would cover defects and fill out the remarkable depressions in that tall, ill-formed head. This is not said in a flippant spirit.

The science of phrenology, the laws that govern that science in the head and face of Albert Patrick are so marvelously demonstrated that even a casual student would unhesitatingly recognize the type of man which Patrick's face and head declare him to be. I am not in the slightest degree prejudiced against the defendant in this trial. I read his face and head absolutely from the standpoint of the phrenologist and physiognomist.

There is nothing strange or mysterious in the delineation of a man's character by the formation of his head and face. A man's outer organs are the expression of his soul, and when we form our impressions, as we frequently do on sight—intuitively, so we are able to read the truths of phrenology and physiognomy, however much we may pretend a disbelief in them.

Except in very rare cases, the line that separates the criminal from the man of moral life is an exceedingly fine one.

The head and face formation show tendencies, but it takes many years of vicious life to actually leave tell-tale marks of crime on the human countenance.

Patrick's head is, phrenologically speaking, as nearly devoid of moral attributes as any I have ever seen. It is the typical head of the egoist, devoid of moral sentiments—cruel, material and absolutely selfish.

On the top of the head, where the sensitive faculties are located, there is a distinct depression. In fact, Patrick's head and face make a remarkable study in hollows which are to be regarded in phrenology and physiognomy as signs for deficiencies.

Where the organs of conscience, veneration, conscientiousness and spirituality should be in the region marked moral attributes in the illustration Patrick's head shows more than a flatness, which is a marked absence of these qualities. There is a marked depression in the region of the moral attributes.

PHILADELPHIA'S FLAG.

Declared to Be One of the Most Beautiful in America.

From the Washington Star.
The city of Philadelphia may be behind some other American municipalities in some respects, but in one particular at least it is in advance of most American cities, and that is in the beauty of its flag. A flag which has been passed some years ago by the city of Philadelphia adopted a city flag, a city flag which is one of the most beautiful and picturesque flags in the world.

BROADWAY, OLIVE AND LOCUST STREETS.

GREAT CROWD WAITED FOR PRINCE ON STREET.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Seven thousand persons waited in a drenching rain for several hours along Broadway, near the Metropolitan House, for a chance to get a good look at Prince Henry.

Broadway was ablaze with electric lights and in front of hotels and cafes were banners bearing legends, welcoming the prince.

The front of the opera house was brilliant with electric lights. Over the front portico was a reproduction of the Meteor III in electric lights and, at each corner of the main entrance was a huge shield bearing the arms of the German Emperor.

The receipts were the largest ever taken in at an opera performance in the world. The cost, however, did not exceed $100. All the principal singers received only half their customary fees, as only one act of each opera was sung. If they had been paid in full the cost of the performance would have exceeded $200.

The decorations could not certainly have exceeded $15,000 in price, and the profits to the theater will in all probability amount to more than $40,000.

According to the opera house management the order making evening, clothes compulsory was obeyed by all who came except a few men who had to shake their fists. They got their money back and were sent away. One man, who didn't wear a hat, was refused admission.

The box office man said he had no peeps to sell to anybody who wasn't dressed according to regulation.

Thomas Hitchcock, who refused to give his box at first for one performance, did not appear to be present last night.

And a very plain, everyday girl was made happy.

Miss Roosevelt won great applause and the highest opinion of those who watched her at the launching. The flattery of words and attentions that this 13-year-old miss has received within the last few months has been enough to turn the head of a more sedate person. She, however, has withstood it charmingly.

Where the crowd was largest and the applause greatest at the ship yard was more self-possessed and calm than the Prince or any other of the principal participants in the ceremony.

The Prince was a little uneasy. He bit his lips nervously and glanced about constantly.

When Miss Alice cut the thread controlling the yacht the Prince and his suite stood at salute until the yacht was in the water. He then turned impulsively to Miss Roosevelt, and, grasping her hand, shook it heartily. Then, amid the applause of the great throng, he bent low and kissed her hand.

"I congratulate you," he said, heartily. "It was splendidly done."

Didn't it go down beautifully?" cried Miss Roosevelt, who seemed to have forgotten her own part in the affair in admiration of the graceful performance of the yacht.

They chatted pleasantly five minutes. "Alice, was splendid," he said. "You did beautifully."

Turning to Prince Henry the President cried: "Didn't she do it beautifully?"

He was no longer present. Roosevelt, but he was "papa" and about the proudest man ever, and his confidence in her was face into shape, a grin running from ear to ear.

Mrs. Roosevelt, her face wreathed in smiles, pressed forward to congratulate the happy girl. Ambassadors, generals and admirals crowded about to shake hands with her. They got their money back and were sent away.

It was a fine picture that was presented, the lively, animated girl, eager and happy to be the center of attention.

In the midst of the ovation, she caught sight of a girl friend far back in the crowd.

"Hello," she cried, waving her hand. "Many friends pressed up from the crowd to congratulate her."

"You did it beautifully, Alice!" cried a girl friend.

Miss Roosevelt, who was in the crowd, waved a kiss and a smile.

Prince Henry, taking a bouquet from the sailors, presented it to his aunt. He waved a kiss and a smile.

SENATORS' FIGHT IS PARTY ISSUE

Democrats Rally to Support of Tillman and McLaurin.

FAVOR A LIGHT PUNISHMENT

RESOLUTION OF CENSURE WOULD MEET THEIR VIEWS.

Republicans, However, Will Probably
Insist on Suspending the Fighting
South Carolinians for Definite Period, Probably Five Days.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—What the Senate shall do in regard to the Tillman-McLaurin fight in its chamber last Saturday has become practically a party issue.

The Democratic members have rallied to the support of the warring South Carolinians and are expected to oppose the further punishment of the offenders.

It is generally believed that expulsion will not be attempted because of its apparent certainty of failing. A two-thirds vote would be required to mete out such punishment and that, it is said, could not be secured by the Democrats.

A meeting of the committee on privileges and elections has been called for today at the suggestion of the Republican members.

It is believed that the Republicans will unite in a recommendation to the Senate that Messrs. Tillman and McLaurin be suspended for a definite period, probably five days.

A party vote would accomplish this and the Democrats would be powerless to prevent the passage of a resolution providing for such a punishment.

It is said, however, that they would agree to this measure if it should become apparent that a compromise on a mere vote of censure would be impossible.

The Democrats feel that any action that demonstrates to the world that the personal conflict between the South Carolina members is disapproved by the Senate is sufficient and that going further is an affront to South Carolina's dignity.

They will, therefore, stand for the least possible punishment.

As was announced in Tuesday's Post-Dispatch, President pro tem Frye put the issue up to the Senate by recalling his order to the roll clerk not to call the names of Senators Tillman and McLaurin, which amounted to a practical suspension.

President Frye says his only object in doing this was to shift the responsibility for the punishment of the fighting members to the Senate.

ROLLA, Mo., Feb. 26.—The Memphis Springs Park Association, which has a capital stock of $400,000, has filed articles of incorporation here.

It wants authority to carry on any kind of mining and petroleum business, irrigate lands, transport by water or freight and conduct gas and electric plants and waterworks.

The incorporators are McEider Dun of Bellefontaine, O.; Adell Sherwood of St. Louis; James Dun of Springfield, Mo.; William J. Rucker of St. James, Mo.; and Walter Dun of Leaden.

WOVEN WIRE TRUST PLANNED.

Capital Stock of the Combined Concern Will Be $8,000,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Arrangements are being perfected for the consolidation of several prominent concerns which make a specialty of woven wire products, such as baskets and kitchen utensils.

The new corporation will have a capital of $8,000,000. The headquarters will be in this city.

ONLY A SUGGESTION,

But It Has Proven of Interest and Value to Thousands.

Common sense would suggest that if one wishes to become fleshy and plump it can only result from the food we eat and digest, and that food should be nutritious or flesh-forming, food, like eggs, beefsteak and cereals; in other words, the kind of food that makes flesh are the foods which form the greater part of our daily bill of fare.

But the trouble is that while we eat enough to generally tone up, the stomach, from abuse and overwork, does not properly digest and assimilate it, which is the reason so many people remain thin and underweight; the digestive organs do not completely digest the flesh-forming, beefsteak and eggs and similar wholesome food.

There are thousands of such who are really confirmed dyspeptics, although they may have no particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs.

If such persons would lay their prejudices aside and make a regular practice of taking one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the food would be quickly and thoroughly digested, because these tablets contain the natural peptones and disaccharides which are weak stomach lacks, and by supplying this want the stomach is soon enabled to regain its natural tone and vigor.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest every form of flesh-forming food, meat, eggs, bread and potatoes, and this is the reason they so quickly build up strength and invigorate thin, dyspeptic men, women and children.

Invalids and children, even the most delicate, use them with marked benefit as they contain no strong, irritating drugs, no cathartic nor any harmful ingredient.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the most successful and most widely known of any remedy for stomach troubles because it is the most reasonable and scientific of modern medicines.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by every druggist in the United States and Canada, as well as in Great Britain, at 50 cents for complete treatment.

Nothing further is required to cure any stomach trouble or to make thin, nervous, dyspeptic people strong, plump and well.

MAGGINI VIOLIN, WORTH UNKNOWN, USED 20 YEARS AT COUNTRY DANCES

Violin, whose intrinsic value, $1500, was unknown in the rural homes of Calhoun County, Illinois.

George Dickson of Alton, Collector of

Curios, Secured in Calhoun County

an Instrument for $50

Which He Says Is

Worth $1500.

George Dickson of Alton, Ill., is the owner of a violin, said to be a genuine Giovanni Maggini, made by the famous Italian musician in 1680.

Mr. Dickson is one of the prominent collectors in the State of Illinois, and has many valuable relics of peoples and of their wars, but he considers this violin the most valuable of them all.

Mr. Dickson has a fine ear for music. While following his profession of surveying several years ago he was working in Calhoun County, in a remote portion of this most remote of all Illinois counties. Being near the village of Sacktown Mr. Dickson went to the home of Wesley Turner to see a lunch.

As he entered the house he heard the tones of a violin and through them recognized the sound of the instrument.

Mr. Dickson inquired where the violin came from.

Over 20 years ago a traveling musician who stopped at the home of H. Landon, then residing in Jersey County, was sick and hungry. Mr. Landon took him in and gave him shelter, food and clothes. He borrowed $5 of Mr. Landon and left his violin as security. He said he would send for it when he reached friends in New York.

For years the violin was used as a plaything by the Landon children.

Turner was a farmhand working for Landon, and one day purchased the old "fiddle" for $5.

There are few residents of Calhoun and Jersey Counties who do not know of the old "Turner violin." It has played more wedding marches, mostly, than most of the Maggini violins in the world. It has furnished music for dances in these counties for 20 years and its sweet strains have been the means of making many love matches in the "rednecked" Calhoun and the home of "Little Jersey."

Mr. Dickson had learned of the fame of the "Turner violin." It has played more wedding marches, mostly, than most of the Maggini violins in the world. It has furnished music for dances in these counties for 20 years and its sweet strains have been the means of making many love matches in the "rednecked" Calhoun and the home of "Little Jersey."

Mr. Dickson took the instrument to the establishment of Alex. J. Ludwig in St. Louis, where it was repaired by Mr. S. O. Allison. He thinks the violin is a genuine product of the famous Maggini.

After consulting the book of records of violins kept in Mr. Ludwig's store it was found that the instrument Mr. Dickson had measured exactly with the measurements allowed officially to the Maggini violins.

Prof. R. Ruiz, a Spanish professor of music at St. Louis, and an authority on old instruments, after playing the violin, said: "It is a Maggini in truth."

The instrument is now placed in Mr. Dickson's collection at his home in Alton, where it is viewed by many interested spectators, some of them from out of the city.

Mr. Dickson is not a gatherer of musical instruments. His collections consist mostly of ethnological, ethnological and archeological specimens.

GILLHAM IS NOT PROSECUTED

Conflict of Statute and Ordinance

Causes Dismissal of Charge Against

Empire Hotel Owner.

The charge against Emory W. Gillham, proprietor of the Empire Hotel, where 11 lives were lost by fire, charging violation of the law requiring emergency ropes and warning notices in each room, was dismissed by Judge Sidenor of the City Hall police court Wednesday morning.

Attorney Benjamin Clark, representing the defendant, argued that the charge should be dismissed because the clause in the statute fixing a penalty of $1000 fine in case of conviction is in conflict with the city ordinance which places the maximum of a police court fine at $500.

The court dismissed the charge upon this ground.

Assistant City Attorney Stanton sought to prosecute the defendant under Section 1503 of the Revised Statutes, which fixes the fine at a maximum of $500, but the court held that this section did not cover the case.

Gillham is still liable to prosecution through the warrant office.

"JERRY" DIGNAN DEAD.

He Was a Veteran Employer of Laboring Men.

Jerome Dignan, proprietor of an employment agency in which laborers were hired for railroad, street and sewer building and all forms of public work, died Tuesday at his home, 1445 O'Fallon street. His funeral was held Wednesday from St. Lawrence O'Toole's Church.

To laboring men throughout the city the dead man was known as "Jerry" Dignan. He was an engineer on the river when he was 14 and worked as a steamboat engineer.

Mr. Crole settled in St. Louis in 1838, beginning his work on the river in that year. He had charge of the engine on many boats, and could relate interesting tales of pioneer river navigation.

He was an engineer on the river when Mark Twain, afterward a pilot, was a schoolboy in Hannibal. Characters John Hey's heroic Jim Bludso, engineer of the "Prairie Belle," were familiar to him through the acquaintance of Mark Twain.

Mr. Crole lived in St. Louis for 40 years. He was a son and two daughters, William A. Crole of Tacoma, Wash.; Mrs. C. S. Freer, 334 South Leffingwell avenue; and Mrs. C. S. Freer, 334 South Leffingwell avenue.

His wife, who he died, and Mrs. Rosa C. Richey of Los Angeles, Cal. He was a member of Centenary M. E. Church.

Prescription No. 2883 by Elmer E. Amend will not cure all complaints, but it will cure rheumatism.

A GEORGIA JUDGE WAS ALARMINGLY AFFLICTED WITH CATARRH OF THE LUNGS, CURED BY PERUNA.

JUDGE W. Q. DURHAM OF GEORGIA.

Catarrh of the Lungs the First Stage of Consumption.

So All Medical Authorities Agree.

Judge Durham, a well-known local judge of Greensboro, Ga., had an experience with Peruna, well worth reciting. A report had become current among the judge's friends that he was threatened with consumption. It was feared for a time that Georgia was to lose one of its most prominent and influential citizens.

It was also reported that the judge had failed to get any relief from any of the medical aid at his command, that he had made use of the now world famous remedy Peruna, and made a prompt recovery.

The judge created quite a sensation in medical circles especially, and the many friends of Judge Durham were not only exceedingly gratified at his recovery, but were enthusiastic in their praise of the remedy that had brought him relief.

The public importance of the judge, together with the prominence of his many friends, as well as the startling and dramatic features of the unexpected cure caused one of our leading newspapers to make inquiry into the facts.

The following written statement from the judge himself sets forth the facts.

GREENSBORO, Ga., March 3, 1900.

"Some time ago I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs and in my head. I tried many remedies, all of which gave me no relief. I concluded that my case was catarrh of the head and lungs, and seeing Peruna so highly recommended I began using it, experiencing the very best results from the first bottle.

I continued using Peruna for a short while, and have never felt the least symptoms of catarrh since. Peruna is certainly a good medicine, and deserves the high praise which is given it by the general public."

Judge Durham has been secretary and treasurer of the city of Greensboro, Ga., for the past three years and has been a local judge for ten years.

SPORTING COMMENT

By J. E. Wray

Next week will know what the future of the National League is to be. The case of Mr. Freedman's celebrated injunction suit, restraining A. G. Spalding from exercising any of the functions of president of the National League will be called then, and it is supposed will be settled for all time.

That is the report from the Freedman camp.

Everyone connected with the matter is thoroughly worn out trying to figure what may happen, and the actual condition, even if it be to the disadvantage of some, will doubtless be preferred to the uncertainty that has existed for weeks.

The leaders of the warfare themselves are weary. Freedman appears to be making preparations to move bag and baggage to the American League, while Spalding states he will abide peacefully the decision of the court and retire from the game if it elicits that he has not been elected.

It appears that the salvation of the National League hangs on the chance of the court declaring his election invalid. If New York and Cincinnati are forced to go to the American League by a contrary decision it will leave the club in the league—hardly enough for a successful organization.

Ban Johnson's Eye
On New York.

That Ban Johnson and some of the magnates in the American League have serious designs on Gotham and the Queen City is probably fact.

A gentleman in good standing and authority in this city, connected with the American League officially, but who does not care to express an official opinion, states it is most probable that the American League will enter both cities and the club league is contemplated, including both.

Up in Chicago they had it that the purpose of Ban Johnson's recent visit to this city was to meet representatives of Freedman and Brush and make tentative arrangements for the admission of the clubs named, the conclusion of the deal depending upon the outcome of the Spalding-Freedman legal bout.

If this was the case Mr. Johnson must have met the New York men in some way, for about 12 midnight, for no suspicious looking characters who suggested emissaries of the two schemes of the National were seen in his company.

The fact that a local authority on American League matters indicated the proposition of New York and Cincinnati entering the organization seems to point to a little fire where the smoke rises.

Most of the league owners of the American are, however, reported opposed to the admission of new clubs. The best plan it is thought is for two club league to exist in harmony and without conflict of dates. Undoubtedly this is the direction along which Johnson and his associates have been working, but it is known that Ban B. would have it otherwise.

At all events a settlement of some kind appears at hand. Freedman's ire and Spalding losing his nerve and something will break.

What is a featherweight?
A featherweight is a freak of pugilism, likewise a contradiction of the laws of natural philosophy, whose specific gravity is a matter of such uncertainty and variability as to include a class or two in front of back of him, at a moment's notice.

Normally, he is supposed to never weigh over 125 pounds. He has been known, however, to weigh as low as 118 and as high as 128, and is capable of doing the most remarkable stunts in fluctuation. For instance, when he weighs in the neighborhood of 120 pounds he will sign articles for a featherweight limit. At 2 o'clock his specific gravity drops to the required weight, at supper time it heaves a sigh and mounts several pounds and at ringside it is practically back at normal again.

Theories of gravitation are becoming upset through the remarkable evidence offered in the case of featherweights and such a thing as establishing a class-weight limit is apparently becoming an impossibility.

The upper margin of the class keeps on extending or distending. Recently it has been shoved up a pound and Terry's specific gravity for a featherweight is now 127 at 4 p. m. instead of 125 pounds straight.

Why not start some inventive genius to work on a scheme for neutralizing the action of gravity? They might then jump up to the heavyweight class at 4 p. m. and still weigh in at 125 ring side the same night. It would at least permit us to have nominal class limits.

Jack Doyle's
Great Blow Up.

Mr. Jack Doyle is an example of a great explosion. The announcement was made yesterday that the once eminent captain of the Giants had been released from the Chicago team by Frank Seale, presumably because he was useless. It is the closing chapter in a career of sudden decline.

Two years ago Doyle was thought to be the best in the business as a captain and manager and player. He was traded by New York for Virgil Garvin, Sammy Strand and Gansel of the Chicago National League team. Gansel and Garvin were players of merit at the time, and Strand had shown possibilities ultimately developed. That Doyle should be thought worth the three is an evidence of the estimation in which he was held.

Last year Doyle exploded. Through sickness and other causes he participated in but few games, and was not himself in them. He showed ability neither as a captain nor player, and his release attests the impression he made.

In the fate of Doyle there are those who are examining closely the make-up of the St. Louis American League team, some of whose members, though veterans of ability, are edging close to the age limit.

There appears to be little cause for fear, however, that any of the St. Louis men are going to collapse during the coming season. Padden's work suffered a decline last year and if anyone goes it may be the second baseman. Burkett has been in the game a long time, but he is another of the Anson type, tough, hard and always serviceable.

Walton is an old hand at the game, but is comparatively young, as is Jack Powell. It is to be hoped that Mr. Hedger, Orin, and company will find no Doyle on their string after the season opens up.

New Team May Visit West Baden.

Mr. Hedger is uncertain whether or not the team will do its training in St. Louis or

M'GOVERN AND CORBETT MATCHED

Southern Athletic Club Plans a Big Carnival for the Occasion.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 25.—Now that Young

Corbett and Terry McGovern have again been matched, the fight to take place on or before Oct. 15, the Southern Athletic Club of this city is contemplating a scheme for a great outdoor athletic affair of which the

McGovern-Corbett contest shall be the feature.

Manager Gray of the Southern Athletic Club, under whose auspices the Sullivan-McGovern bout took place, said: "We will make a bid for this match and a high one. I think we will get it. If we are successful we will make the occasion the greatest in the history of pugilism in the memorable assembly at Carson City to which the McGovern-Corbett fight. The bout will be pulled off in the open."

Next to the athletic building in which the last fight was held is an old bicycle track where 1500 seats can be erected. Well, in event we get the contest, arrange several first-class preliminaries and will no doubt fill every seat in the place. I think we will get the fight, we cannot afford to allow ourselves to be outbid."

The agreement to match Corbett and McGovern was reached yesterday after hours of discussion over the question of weight. Johnny Corbett, manager of Rothwell, indicated that the men weigh 125 and 130. Harris wanted it at 125 p. m. It was finally agreed that the men weigh 127 at 4 p. m.

The necessary arrangements were then made and heavy forfeits posted by both parties for weight, appearance and other conditions.

The place and time of the fight have not been determined yet, the articles being called for a match to take place before Oct. 15, before that club offering the best inducements. Side will be received for the fight up to March 15 and the battle to be given to the makers of the best terms.

Young Corbett expressed himself as well pleased at the making of the match and stated that he was confident he could defeat Terry as easily as he had done before.

Cabanne Club Pool Tourney.

In the bottle-pool tournament at the Cabanne Club Tuesday night two games were played. M. Corbin defeated J. Sanders and George Barnett winning from Barnett. Corbin made a run of 50 in the first game and Barnett won all three games against his opponent.

Wednesday night M. A. Cohn will meet L. Sanders.

CATTON AND DAY MATCHED.

Will Meet in a Hundred-Point Contest at the Royal.

William Catton, one of the best billiard players in the country, and one-time ball-champion of the world, has been matched to play Frank Day, the present champion of Missouri, 100 points for a purse of $25.

The games will be three cushions, and Catton has devoted considerable attention to this style in the last few years, having been one of the principal players at Green and Catton's billiard academy, Chicago.

Fifty points will be played Wednesday night and 50 Thursday at the Royal at 8 o'clock. Catton's title of ex-champion comes from the fact that he won the championship of the world and the medal emblematic of the same two years ago in a contest against J. C. Carter, in which he was defeated by Carter, and he lost it to Lloyd Jones, who holds it now.

Three-Cushions at the Grand.

In the class "A" billiard tournament at the Grand Casino Tuesday night, J. C. Carter won from Brock by a score of 10 to 4. During the first 35 points it was pretty close, being nip and tuck, but in the last few innings Peterson made a winning start. Score: Peterson-Total, 60; high run, 20; average, 48. Brock-Total, 42; high run, 41; average, 48.

ED MACK AGAIN DEFEATED.

George Sutton Won the Second Game in 500-Point Match.

In the second section of the match between George Sutton, the handless billiardist, and E. C. Mack played at Hauser's Tuesday night, the former again won by a score of 10 to 3. Sutton did not put up as good a game as he did on the opening night of the contest, but it was good enough to win.

Sutton made an average of 8 and a high run of 14, while Mack's average was 5. Sutton now leads by 72 points, and Mack must play some strong billiards before he can reach his adversary. The score follows: Sutton-Total, 100; high run, 14; average, 6. Mack-Total, 28; high run, 23; average, 5; grand total, 127.

HOUSE ROBBED BY TWO BOYS

Mrs. Orr Says One Talked to Her While the Other Got in the Back Door.

Walter Adams, aged 15, of 274 Stoddard street, and Frank Smith, 12, of 6174 North Twenty-third street, were arrested as vagrants at Twenty-third and Morgan streets early Wednesday morning. They were later identified by Mrs. Mary Orr of 2339 Lucas avenue as the lads who visited her house Tuesday. She says one engaged her attention at the front door while the other ransacked the house and stole a purse containing $3.

Mrs. Orr saw the taker of the purse as he was leaving the house, she says, and pursued him for a block, but could not overtake him.

Young Adams, according to Mrs. Orr's statement, came to her door asking where some person, whom he named, lived. Mrs. Orr knew of no such person, but the boy asked her with questions and she stood talking with him at the door until she heard a noise in the back part of the house.

As she neared the back door she saw a boy leaving the house and a fruitless chase followed. She found her purse and its contents had been taken, then returned to the front door, but her questioner had disappeared.

Policemen Sullivan and Early, who made the arrest, say that similar small robberies conducted on the same plan have been reported from the same neighborhood lately. Warrants charging petit larceny were issued against the two boys.

ST. LOUIS GIRL TO PAINT A QUEEN

MISS ANNA WEST SHAW CALLED TO ENGLAND.

HER MINIATURES ARE FAMOUS.

August Busch's Face Is Now Under the Small Artist's Hands in New York.

Royalty has honored St. Louis art in honoring a St. Louis artist. Miss Anna West Shaw has been given a commission to paint a portrait of Queen Alexandra of England.

Miss Shaw is 30 and a small brunette, not much given to society. She comes by her artistic temperament naturally. She is the great-grandniece of Benjamin West, one of the leading painters of early America.

Miss Shaw took her first painting lesson in the city of her nativity, and her earlier work was in water color sketches of birds and flowers. She finally drifted into miniature portrait work, and found her life vocation.

While in England Miss Shaw painted a portrait of Lady Clarke, wife of the chief quarry to Edward VII. Lady Clark procured the commission that will again take Miss Shaw to England. Just now she is in New York painting a portrait of Augustus Busch of St. Louis.

Miss Shaw has painted miniatures of Mrs. C. Norman Jones, 244 Lindell Boulevard, Miss May, daughter of Henry May of Washington; Mrs. Edward Frederick Nelson and Miss Nelson, Mary Stone Field, granddaughter of the late Cyrus W. Field, and Mrs. Francis Carroll.

MOTHERHOOD IS FORGOTTEN

Prof. Kiehle Tells National School Superintendents Wage-Earning by Women Menaces Home Life.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—A warning note that women and girls in this country were being drawn into "commercial and manufacturing pursuits to an extent that jeopardized the welfare of future mothers and was a menace to happy home life," was sounded by Prof. D. L. Kiehle of the chair of pedagogy in the University of Minnesota before the department of superintendents of the National Educational Association, now in session here.

His address touched a popular feeling in the minds of the thousand or more educators from all points of the compass, and that portion of the statement that home life and surroundings were above all social gain was applauded.

"In this age of commercialism and industrial conditions," said Prof. Kiehle, "no provision has been made for motherhood. This phase of life seems to have been brushed aside. In fact, we are making money-earners out of our daughters in commercial pursuits."

"While women have every right to an equality with men in matters of education, they are going outside their sphere when that portion of their education fitting them for the higher duties of the home life and motherhood does not take precedence over everything else."

"Education for women that began only a few years ago on elementary lines has extended to technical and classical courses and has enabled women to compete for places formerly filled by men who supported families in many instances. The continuation of women entering the commercial and industrial field cannot but have disastrous results in time, unless something is done to provide for a home life also for women, and the tendency to enter the office and factory is checked."

EASY TO FIND

When you find a medicine that makes your regular food taste good, when you find a medicine that strengthens a weak stomach—then you know you're going to put some flesh on.

Scott's Emulsion does these things. We recommend it whenever the system needs more flesh. If you are thin and able to eat begin regular doses. That's your part. Scott's Emulsion will do the rest. Not flabby—but solid flesh.

GRAY AND SHIRAS MAY SOON RETIRE

SECRETARY LONG SPOKE OF FOR SUPREME BENCH.

BUT DAY IS AN ASPIRANT

Oliver Wendell Holmes of Massachusetts Also Suggested for a Jurist's Gown.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Justice Gray of the United States Supreme Court, who suffered a light stroke of paralysis on Tuesday, is considerably better today, and it is hoped that he will entirely recover very soon. The paralysis affects one side of his body only, and his speech is clear as soon as he is able to speak.

Comparatively slight as his illness is, it has called attention to the fact that Justice Gray may soon retire from the bench, and the question of his probable successor is therefore, being discussed. It is the opinion of Pennsylvanians in Washington that Justice Shiras may retire next fall, and it is possible that President Roosevelt may soon have the appointment of the two members of the Supreme Court. As New England has no other member of the court, Justice Gray, his successor will, of course, be taken from that section.

Under the circumstances, however, the man most likely to succeed Justice Gray is the present Chief Justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, Oliver Wendell Holmes. He is generally regarded as a great judge and a man of the finest character and intelligence. He is a veteran of the civil war, in which he was most severely wounded, and has a reputation before going on the bench in his masterful edition of Kent's Commentaries. He is the son of the beloved Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, and in addition to his other qualifications is a man of great eloquence.

It is probable that had President McKinley lived he would have appointed to the Supreme Court his personal friend, Judge William R. Day, now on the federal bench in Ohio. It is well understood in Washington that Judge Day expected ultimately to receive an appointment and that this was the ambition of his life. It is now said by those who ought to know something of the President's intentions that Judge Day, who is a young man, will be reserved to succeed Justice Harlan of Kentucky when he shall retire, which in the nature of things he must do before Justice Harlan has been a member of the supreme court for almost 25 years. Mr. Day was 25 years old when he was appointed to the federal bench, and has not been in the most robust health of late, but will undoubtedly serve until able for retirement when he reaches the age of 70.

Frederick Walter Dead.—The funeral of Frederick Walter, who died Tuesday afternoon at his home, 216 Morrison avenue, will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Walter was 25 years old and was a member of the Home Klans during the civil war. He is left a widow, four children and 13 grandchildren.

Mrs. C. Blau

A PHYSICIAN with a large practice undertakes too much. He cannot make a specialty of any one disease. So it is only natural that the family physician's treatment is not always thorough. He has no time to devote himself to the study of the diseases peculiar to women. He often does not tell the patient what is the cause of her headache, backache and the long list of ills peculiar to women. He calls it "indigestion," kidney or liver trouble or simply "female weakness."

His treatment may help the trouble for a while but it usually returns. Thousands of women have been treated for liver and kidney trouble when they are suffering with disordered meninges. Under this treatment they suffer patiently for years. In the meantime becoming physical wrecks, they give up in discouragement. Then they hear the doctor's suggestion of "operation."

In thousands of cases Wine of Cardui has worked a cure where doctors have failed. Wine of Cardui is known all over the world as a medicine which accurately regulates menstruation. Disordered menstruation destroys the vitality by wasting the blood. Nervous prostration and consumption result. With these derangements started the sufferer who lets them run on is on the road to the asylum or the grave, and all because of some little menstrual disorder that Wine of Cardui will cure.

Mrs. C. Blau, who lives at No. 710 Seymour Street, Milwaukee, Wis., was saved from a life of suffering by taking Wine of Cardui. She suffered for ten years before she gave Wine of Cardui a trial. Doctors tried to cure her but they could not. Mrs. Blau is a woman of culture and intelligence. She is the President of the North End Frauen-Verein, an influential organization of German-American women at Milwaukee. This is what she says of Wine of Cardui:

"I suffered for nearly ten years with general weakness and debility, also severe bearing-down pains and splitting headaches. Doctors told me that I had female trouble and that my kidneys were affected. They did their best to cure me, but somehow I did not seem to improve, and with my other troubles my appetite and digestion failed me. Several members of the Frauen-Verein spoke so highly of the help they had received from McElree's Wine of Cardui that I decided to try it. Imagine my great joy to find I felt better within a week after I started to use it. And nine weeks after I was in perfect health. I gladly praise your medicine."

You may get the same relief Mrs. Blau secured if you will only take Wine of Cardui as she did. If you are suffering from female disease—no matter how long you have suffered or how many doctors you have had—Wine of Cardui will bring you relief. This pure Wine has relieved the most obstinate cases of menstrual irregularities at first, quickly involve every organ and function of the body—the nerves, the digestion, the blood circulation and respiration. Any sort of disease may develop in a body that is run down and wrecked in health in all quarters. A disease that has run for ten years is generally regarded as chronic. Wine of Cardui could have relieved Mrs. Blau years ago but the Wine relieves so many thousands of cases of irregularities in their early stages that this case would hardly have been noticed. This case is referred to today to show all hopeless discouraged sufferers what a reliable, effective medicine Wine of Cardui is. No woman has ever, to our knowledge, taken this medicine and not been benefited by it. To cure Mrs. Blau who had suffered ten years, was an achievement. If you need the relief Wine of Cardui brought to Mrs. Blau, go to your druggist and buy a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui. If you wish advice write to The Ladies' Advisory Department, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn. Describe your symptoms as correctly as you can and a letter of advice will be sent you. The treatment is taken in the privacy of the home and this is one of the features that commend it to suffering women. Two or three doses a day in your room—there is no private examination. Relief begins immediately.
